

UNIONS TO FORFEIT RIGHTS BY STRIKES, RAIL BOARD RULES

Body Also Decides All Disputes Must Be Referred Before Action.

TEXAS TIE-UP CALLED OFF AS FINAL STEP FOR PEACE

Vice Chairman Says Men Will Remain Out Until Official Notice Is Received.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, October 29.—The Railroad Labor Board today issued its decision on the hearing to determine responsibility for the general strike threatened by the big five railroad unions, and the three findings, the third of which held "that any union going out on strike will forfeit its right to the rights of its members in all existing contracts and lost all benefits accorded by the transportation act."

The other findings were: "That all such disputes must be referred to the board before any action is taken." "That any interruption of traffic would be a blow aimed at the peace, prosperity and safety of the entire nation."

Virtually all rail brotherhoods of the country, scheduled for October 30, Thursday night, had departed for their homes today. The final step toward rail peace came with the announcement here last night by W. G. Lake, chief of the trainmen, that the strike of 500,000 men on the international and Great Northern Railroad in Texas had been called off by general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the road, it was announced today.

Franklin is en route to Houston from Chicago. A message from Mr. Franklin received by local chairman of the state conference of the union, but union leaders believed settlement of the strike would be disturbed by the railroad strike. Until the strike is officially called off by the striking trainmen will remain out of the strike.

Shepherd denied reports that striking men still were 100 per cent out. He said the men were satisfied to remain out until a satisfactory settlement was reached.

Board Gets Congratulations. NEW YORK, October 29.—Congratulations for the Railroad Labor Board upon its successful handling of the national rail strike and praise for the union leaders upon their declaration of withdrawal from the strike were included in a message sent the board yesterday by the National Civic Federation.

The federation's message declared that the board in its dealings with the railroad brotherhood leaders had followed the voluntary principle in the settlement of industrial disputes. The decision of the board to settle the strike was a landmark in the history of government mediation, it was said.

Will Set Forth Position. CLEVELAND, October 29.—The "big five" railroad brotherhood chiefs returned to work this morning after a conference, they agreed upon a joint letter to be mailed forth the position of the union in relation to the proposed railroad strike. The letter will be mailed next week, together with the resolution adopted by the final conference of the labor leaders in Chicago Thursday night.

None of the brotherhood chiefs had any comment to make on the general situation today.

SACCO AND VANZETTI HEARING GUARDED

By the Associated Press. DEDHAM, Mass., October 29.—A motion for a new trial for Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, convicted of murder in the first degree for the killing of a paymaster and his guard at South Braintree, in April, 1920, was heard in the Norfolk county superior court today.

Police guards, mounted on horses, on motor cycles and afoot, were thrown around the courthouse in Dedham, and a heavy guard of uniformed and un-uniformed officers was on duty. Deputy sheriffs and local police with instructions to search all spectators for weapons. Riot guns were held in reserve.

The case, which has been the subject of bomb, speaking and marching demonstrations by radical groups in the capitals of Europe and South America, came again before Judge Webster Thayer, who presided over the trial, which the defendants were found guilty. Sentence on the men has not been imposed, pending determination of the appeals.

FLAGS OF NATIONS COMING FOR PARLEY URGED TO BE FLOWN

With delegates representing various nations at the international conference on limitation of armaments arriving in Washington practically daily, it was suggested today that local business houses arrange immediate display of flags and colors of foreign nations participating in the conference as a public demonstration of welcome to the visiting delegates.

Marshall Foch of France and Admiral Lord Beatty of Great Britain have already arrived, it is pointed out, and display of the flags of these nations is suggested as being immediately suitable. The government buildings will have displays of flags, which have been carefully worked out and co-ordinated by the office of Col. Sherrill, in charge of public buildings and grounds, and many of the large business houses have already arranged to display the uniform color scheme of the flags of the nations adopted by the government.

BRITAIN GETS FINAL DEMANDS OF IRISH

Peace Likely to Hang on Result of Next Meeting in Conference.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, October 29.—Final demands have been presented by the Irish delegation attending the disarmament conference here, it was reported in London today. These demands, it is said, involve abrogation of the act which gave the Ulster government control of the six northern counties in Ireland, but it was asserted the government had intimated that acceptance of these claims was impossible. The issue has been referred to Dublin, according to the report, and it was implied that the Irish demands, which are expected to be made at the latest, will probably be unfavorable.

Views expressed by newspapers here today, especially were not encouraging. There are reports that an agreement by political correspondents that Ulster rather than sovereignty over Ireland was the crux of the situation.

Forebodings Are Gloomy. The London Times' parliamentary correspondent said: "The Irish state should accurately reflect the mind of the government. The Irish state should accurately reflect the mind of the government. The Irish state should accurately reflect the mind of the government."

Anxiety over Monday's debate in the House of Commons, it is ministerial quarters, and that attitude seemed to be shared by most political writers in the house of commons, upon which it is believed the fate of the question of peace depends.

At Sinn Fein high council in Dublin met last evening and did not adjourn until midnight. It was stated that the council discussed a number of constitutional matters and questions of organization.

BRAND STARTS FOR U. S. WITH FRENCH DELEGATES

By the Associated Press. PARIS, October 29.—Premier Briand and the other members of the French delegation to the Washington conference on limitation of armaments are on their journey to America today. The French official party left Paris for Havre at 11:05 o'clock this morning, making the regular boat train to the delegation. Virtually the entire diplomatic corps, the various cabinet ministers and many members of the French delegation are on board.

The liner Lafayette, on which the delegation has taken passage, will sail late this afternoon for New York.

NAVAL ARMAMENTS MONDAY'S SUBJECT FOR U. S. DELEGATES

Negotiations Smoothing Way to Favorable Status of Pacific Problems.

SELECTION OF AMERICAN ADVISERS NOW EXPECTED

Beginning Tomorrow, Officials Are to Be Busy Extending Welcome to Foreign Representatives.

Fine Bible Is Given To President to Open Arms Parley. A handsomely embossed Bible for use in opening the armament conference was presented to President Harding today by a committee of the New York Bible Society.

It is bound in finest morocco, incased in a velvet-lined cover and is prefaced with a dedication to the work of the conference. The American delegates to the arms limitation conference will meet Monday morning, and in anticipation of the session, Secretary of State Hughes has been going over with Secretary of the Navy Denby questions relating to the American plan for proposed limitation of naval armaments.

President Harding has completed the list of advisers to the American delegation, twelve in number, it is reported, and may announce them between now and Monday.

In high administrative circles, as the date for the assembling of the conference approaches, there is a growing feeling of confidence that many problems to come up, which at first assumed menacing proportions, give promise of yielding to negotiation. The cordial and amicable atmosphere makes it seem probable that administration officials regard the outlook for the conference achieving tangible beneficial results as more than hopeful.

Smooth Path for Delegates. Conversations between the Japanese ambassador and the Secretary of State, which have been going on from time to time, have done much, it is asserted, to smooth the way for the meeting of the two countries at the conference in which Pacific and far eastern questions are to be considered. The cordial and amicable atmosphere makes it seem probable that administration officials regard the outlook for the conference achieving tangible beneficial results as more than hopeful.

From tomorrow, when the Chinese staff will arrive, until November 11, when the Japanese will depart, the staffs and officials of the government will be busy extending the hospitality of the United States to the visitors from Asia and Europe. The Japanese principal delegates will arrive tomorrow, and next week some of the European delegations will reach New York, coming by the coastwise route.

Keynote by President. President Harding's speech at the opening of the conference, Saturday, November 12, following the Armistice day ceremonies of the 11th, is awaited with keen interest in diplomatic circles, as he is expected to sound the keynote of the broad American policy as well as welcome the members of the conference.

The State Department has announced definite postponement of the opening of the conference to the morning of Saturday, November 12, instead of Armistice day, the 11th, as originally planned. Secretary Hughes, head of the American delegation, is expected to deliver an address. It is probable the meeting will then adjourn until the following Monday, when organization of the conference will be completed.

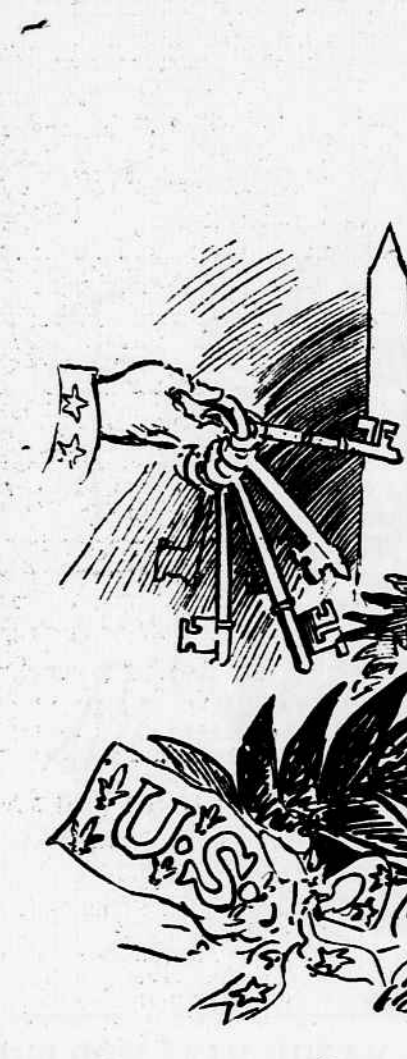

The conference will meet for its opening session in the hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which has been reserved for the use of the conference delegations. The hall is limited to 1,200, the general public cannot be taken care of, except by special means of publicity. In order that the general public could know what was transpiring.

Committee Meetings. Meetings of the various committees appointed by the conference to study special subjects will be held in the afternoon. The office of the conference is in the Navy Department for the use of the conference delegations. It is to be expected that these meetings will not be open to the public or the press except on special occasions, when the committee may decide that it would be wise to throw them open.

That question, however, can be determined only by the conference itself or the particular committee after it has been charged by the conference with a special study. So far as the open sessions of the conference are concerned, it was emphasized that the State Department was anxious to provide every possible means of publicity in order that the general public could know what was transpiring.

GOV. FRAZIER FAR BEHIND IN NORTH DAKOTA VOTE. Nestos, Independent, Has Lead of 27,144 in Returns From 999 Precincts.

By the Associated Press. FARGO, N. D., October 29.—Returns from 999 precincts from yesterday's recall election, tabulated by independent today, gave R. A. Nestos, Independent, a lead of 27,144 over Gov. Lynn J. Frazier, non-partisan. The vote stood: Nestos, 81,795; Frazier, 54,651.

Vous etes le bien—venu Notre General Foch.

WILSON MAY BREAK SILENCE ON NOV. 11

Views on World Issues to Be Presented on Armistice Day.

By DAVID LAWRENCE. Woodrow Wilson will attend the funeral ceremonies at Arlington on Armistice day, when an unknown American soldier killed in action in France will be buried. The former President has not appeared at a public function since inauguration day last March, when he was too feeble to do more than greet Mr. Harding in the President's room in the Senate wing of the Capitol.

When the services at Arlington are concluded Mr. Wilson will proceed to his home, where an informal demonstration will be held in his honor by his old friends. It will be similar to the affair on March 4, when thousands of people crowded the streets to greet the President-elect.

May Break Silence. The former President has not said a word publicly in nearly nine months and there are rumors that he may break his silence on Armistice day and give his views on world issues. As an exponent of the idea that the most practicable way to get limitation of armaments is through a league of nations, which by providing machinery for the settlement of disputes makes it possible to remove the burden of the world.

On the other hand, Mr. Wilson has heretofore refrained from doing anything which might be construed as re-entry on his part into the political arena, and while it is known that many of his friends would be glad to have him express his views and give momentum to the policies which he has championed, but which some of his party leaders have been neglecting, there is no certainty that the former President will decide to do at the last moment.

Soon to Pick Chairman. Meanwhile the democratic national committee meets next week in St. Louis to pick a new national chairman, as George White has indicated he would resign if a compromise between the regular best train and the conference will then adjourn until the following Monday, when organization of the conference will be completed.

The conference will meet for its opening session in the hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which has been reserved for the use of the conference delegations. The hall is limited to 1,200, the general public cannot be taken care of, except by special means of publicity. In order that the general public could know what was transpiring.

The figures included incomplete returns from all but seven of the state's fifty-three counties. The unofficial returns gathered by newspaper and independent sources indicated the candidates for attorney general and commissioner of agriculture and labor were running about even with the head of the ticket.

Convicted Collie Dog Appeals From Verdict Of Alexandria Court

Special Dispatch to The Star. ALEXANDRIA, Va., October 29.—A collie dog's plea failed in police court here today, and Shep, pet of Mrs. William M. Ramey, was ordered destroyed or sent out of the city by police justice Snow.

However, the sentence has been stayed. Shep's attorney, Frank Stuart, noted an appeal to the corporation court and made a fight to save the dog.

Shep's crime was barking. Policemen Stollings, the complainant, testified that the dog barked almost continuously, making it impossible for him to sleep. Ramey produced two witnesses, who testified that they lived in the neighborhood and had never been annoyed by the dog. The decision of the higher court is awaited with interest.

OFFICERS CHOSEN FOR CADET CORPS

PREPARE FOR BIDS ON MORE SCHOOLS

Wheatley and Eaton Work to Approach Contract Stage Next Week.

Bids will be sought by the Commissioners next week for two more of the school buildings authorized by Congress to relieve congestion in the public school system.

The new bids will be for a twelve-room addition to the Wheatley School and for an eight-room addition to the John Eaton School, including alterations to the existing building.

The city heads, at the board meeting on Tuesday, probably will award a contract for the construction of the addition to the Wheatley School, for which bids were opened a week ago.

Later in the week a contract may be awarded for the completion of the Eastern High School, which was opened a few days ago.

Encouraged by Bids. Maj. Brown, assistant engineer Commissioner, expressed satisfaction over some of the bids received, he said, will make it possible to complete the high school at a cost of $200,000, which is less than the school building has been erected for since before the war.

The municipal architect's office, under the supervision of Maj. Brown, is working at full speed on the new school building in an effort to have as many additional classrooms as possible ready for use when the next scholastic year opens in September, 1922.

Completion of the Eastern High School by February 1, 1923, was urged today by Daniel M. Edwards, vice president of the board of education, who has been instrumental in the campaign to have the building completed without further delay.

Edwards has abandoned all hope of having the school ready for occupancy at the beginning of the new scholastic year in September, 1922.

It is the belief of Mr. Edwards that if the work on new Eastern is rushed to a hurried pace, the school, which is considered likely that the Commissioners, in awarding the contract, will set the maximum time limit for that date.

The derangement of the congestion at the present Eastern is growing more acute. This school was built to accommodate about 400 students, and the enrollment has gone beyond 1,000 mark. It is expected that at the beginning of the next semester in February more than 1,000 students will be in the school.

Double-Shift System. To provide accommodations for the excess students a double-shift system has been put into operation, and a vacant room in the basement of the Wallace graded school nearby has been pressed into use for the purpose. At the present rate of increase in the enrollment, school officials believe that the double-shift system will be necessary to all every seat in the school. New Eastern will have accommodations for 1,500 students.

FOCH LOVES HIS PIPE: PUFFS A LITTLE BRIAR AT EVERY OPPORTUNITY

By the Associated Press. Marshal Foch, who is known as an inveterate pipe smoker, before boarding the steamship Paris for his trip to America made sure that a sufficient amount of his favorite French tobacco was on board. One of his military aides has it in charge—twenty-five pounds of it. Soon after he was taken off the Paris at New York and arrived at the hotel, he was met by a French official courtesies with the members of the reception committee on the tug Vigilant, he went inside the pilot house, lit his small briar pipe and seemed perfectly at home. He emptied it as he approached Battery Park and put it back into his pocket.

Two hours later, when comfortably established in his special train for the run to Washington, the pipe was out again. After dinner he followed the example of his guests and smoked a cigar, but this finished, the pipe again came into view, only to disappear when the train pulled into Union station.

Again, as his hotel was reached, he did before going to bed was to take a few more puffs. "The marshal loves his pipe," said a French official.

D.C. HEADS SUGGEST PLANS ON PARKING

Transmit to Co-Operating Committee Proposals on Auto Regulations.

The Commissioners today transmitted to the committee charged to co-operate with the police department in solving the automobile parking problem a number of suggestions which the city heads want the committee to consider in framing its report.

In the letter the Commissioners made it clear to the committee that it should avoid recommendations which would require action by Congress in order to be put into effect. Apparently, it is the desire of the board to secure action without delay on the question of parking and not wait for possible legislation on the traffic problem.

Issue Is Suggested. The Commissioners suggested that the committee inquire into the plan of having the police impound a car where limited parking is permitted, instead of the present system, under which a policeman must wait for the driver of the car to appear or leave a notice in the machine. The suggestions made by the Commissioners follow:

"A map will be prepared under the direction of the Engineer Commissioner showing the width of streets and the private garages where vehicles may be stored and the capacity thereof. The places where similar private garages could be located in public places where it is suggested parking could be provided.

The maximum number on which public parking should be permitted. The practicability of storage of vehicles outside of private garages instead of on public space.

Disregard of Time Limit. "The matter of disregarding time limit for parking on account of the police supervision to enforce time limits."

"The matter of considering parking space outside of the present congested districts."

"The matter of impounding vehicles instead of enforcing regulations by arrest."

Disregarding any proposition requiring action by Congress.

ONE KILLED, TWO INJURED IN RAILWAY TRAIN CRASH

Derailment of Freight Car Quickly Followed by Run-In. Near Magnolia, W. Va.

Special Dispatch to The Star. CUMBERLAND, Md., October 29.—C. M. Etchison of Baltimore, engineer of west-bound train No. 29 of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, was instantly killed and two others were injured when Etchison's train, made up entirely of freight cars, crashed into a passenger train near Magnolia, W. Va., thirty-three miles east of Cumberland today.

The derailment of the freight car, which was loaded with paper, and the collision occurred almost simultaneously. The passenger train, which was making time, was passing the freight train when the collision occurred.

PRESIDENTIONS CAPITAL IN PAYING HOMAGE TO FUCH

Impressive Demonstrations Everywhere Accorded to Famous French Marshal.

Visits High Officials: Unable to See Wilson

Mr. Harding Tenders Warm Welcome to Distinguished Visitor at the White House.

Washington today poured out the homage that has stirred its soul since the dark days of the world war to the first foreign general who ever commanded American forces in a titanic struggle for liberty on foreign soil.

Like another great Frenchman, Lafayette, who came to America to receive the thanks of the republic he had helped to establish, Marshal Foch received from high officials and plain citizens here today an impressive demonstration of the gratitude for his services to freedom.

President Harding, on behalf of the American people, formally welcomed the allied commander to the United States.

Makes Round of Calls. Leaving the presidential suite in the Willard Hotel shortly before 10 o'clock, Marshal Foch and his aides set out on a round of official calls which took them first to the White House, then to the office of the Vice President, and finally to the offices of the Secretaries of State, War and Navy. The marshal's official staff, which also included a full complement of French aides, arrived in front of the Willard Hotel at the White House shortly before noon, where the public inquired it would be able to get a glimpse of the distinguished visitor.

Smiles Through It All. Marshal Foch smiled through it all—smiles which he knew it would be paid him by the hearts of a people whose destiny has been closely interwoven with that of his own countrymen.

Embassador Jusserand accompanied the marshal and acted as interpreter. The marshal's official staff, which also included a full complement of French aides, arrived in front of the Willard Hotel at the White House shortly before noon, where the public inquired it would be able to get a glimpse of the distinguished visitor.

President Tenders Welcome. The President tendered a warm welcome to Marshal Foch and told him that France and America were united in the hearts of the people of the United States.

Leaving the White House and the cavalry escort, the military leader and his aids drove rapidly to the Capitol, where the marshal was met by the Vice President Coolidge as "the man of the hour."

Returning this greeting, Marshal Foch praised the American people and its services in the war. Ambassador Jusserand acted as interpreter for the Vice President.

The next calls were paid at the State and War and Navy buildings. Entering the south door of the State Department, the marshal was met by the heads of the various departments.

From the State Department Marshal Foch went to the War Department, where he paid his formal call upon Gen. Pershing, his former comrade-in-arms. Gen. Pershing, who occupied the dual roles of general and chief of staff. The general also was acting Secretary of War until the late war, when he was succeeded by Gen. Pershing.

Denby brought to the marshal the greetings extended by Marshal Foch to officials of the government.

When the marshal left the home of former President Wilson, Brig. Gen. Connor, his honorary aide, told him that Mr. Wilson's physician had never insisted that the former president should not receive any visitors. The marshal thereupon formed a nation commander of the American Legion.

Rob Doctor Of $29,000. Four Bandits, Faces Smeared With Grease, Tie Him to Chair.

DELTA, Ohio, October 28.—Four unmasked bandits, with faces smeared with grease, invaded the office of S. B. Finney, seventy-five years old, a root doctor, and robbed him of $29,000 after striking him on the head with a revolver and fleeing away from the scene.

They escaped toward Toledo in an automobile. Finney, it is said, had an abhorrence for banks and kept his savings in a clock, which he always carried. His condition is not considered serious.
